Abstract

NexNest is an innovative EdTech/PropTech platform providing a comprehensive "Furnishing-as-a-Service" solution for urban renters and new homeowners. By utilizing a proprietary constraint-aware spatial matching algorithm and Augmented Reality (AR) visualizations, NexNest bridges the gap between empty apartments and fully functional homes. We offer customizable, budget-friendly rental packages that guarantee a physical fit and eliminate the logistical hassle of traditional furniture procurement.

Executive Summary

Moving into an unfurnished or semi-furnished home currently demands substantial upfront capital, time-consuming sourcing across multiple disjointed vendors, and heavy logistical effort. NexNest addresses this friction through highly customizable rental packages that encompass furniture, appliances, and home essentials under a single, predictable monthly agreement. By introducing space-aware algorithmic recommendations and mobile AR previews, NexNest empowers customers to confidently select items tailored perfectly to their actual floor plans, ensuring zero sizing mismatches upon delivery.

Company Description

Company Vision

To make comfortable, functional, and well-designed homes accessible to everyone without requiring large upfront furniture purchases or compromising on spatial aesthetics.

Company Mission

To help people furnish their homes conveniently through customizable furniture and appliance rentals, personalized space recommendations, and highly reliable end-to-end delivery and maintenance.

Affordability

Lower upfront costs with predictable, flexible monthly rental tenures suited to urban mobility.

Smart Space Use

Data-driven recommendations ensuring every rented item fits the exact dimensions of the room.

Convenience & Trust

End-to-end service including free delivery, professional setup, in-life maintenance, and easy returns.

Target Market & Value Proposition

Our primary demographic consists of individuals and families aged 23-45 who have recently rented or purchased an unfurnished home in major Indian metropolitan areas. This includes working professionals, young couples, and students relocating for education or employment. We deliver distinct value to these segments by converting the complex, capital-heavy process of interior furnishing into a simple, subscription-based service. Instead of renting ten different items across multiple platforms, our customers rent a complete, move-in-ready home setup under one unified contract.
